A Celebration of Nature and Our Heritage

You are invited to submit your creative work for an exhibition at the Laudato Si' Centre.

Remember --- Imagine ---Create

Nature is all around us. It is in the trees we pass and roots we walk over, the song of birds and buzz of insects, the landscapes we share and the changing seasons we experience. It is woven into our memories, our stories, our communities and our sense of place.

But nature is not simply what we see today, it is what has been and what will be.

We invite you to explore celebrating nature and heritage through your own imagination and creativity. What does celebrating nature and heritage mean to you? Think about what nature may have been like in the past, what it means to you now or what it might look like in a future where we have put caring for creation into practice?

Is this something you can express in a piece of artwork, a poem, a photograph, a painting, a sculpture?

We are accepting submissions in any form, using any medium, craft or written genre. Your response can be anything you want it to be.

Look closely. Listen carefully. Remember. Imagine.

You are only limited by your own imagination! What will you create?

One submission per person. Entries will be kept until 23rd February 2027, when you will be responsible for collecting your work if you want it back. If you would like your submitted piece back before then, please get in touch via laudatosi@dioceseofsalford.org.uk

We accept no responsibility or liability for any loss or damage of submitted work. You submit this work at your own risk.

The work remains the copyright of the artist. However, by submitting your artwork you give the organisers permission to display the work as part of the exhibition and to photograph or reproduce images of the work for promotional and publicity purposes, including for a publication planned for Easter 2027.
